

Iowa Businesses Continue to be Concerned about COVID-19 Impacts on Revenue, Workforce, Employee Well-being (Update 3: April 10, 2020)

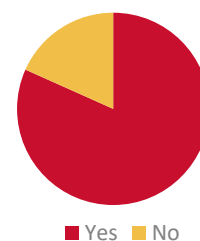

As COVID-19 proliferates across our nation, the crisis continues to negatively impact our economy and spark concerns for the future of small- to medium-sized businesses. CIRAS, with a mission to enhance the performance of Iowa industry, has been conducting a phone survey so we can better understand the needs of Iowa companies and better connect them to appropriate resources.

Here is what we've learned so far:

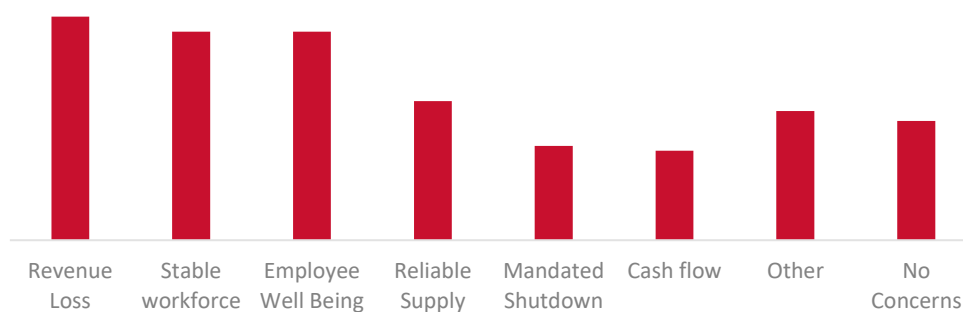

What % of capacity are you operating at?

Do you have a plan in place to stay in business over the next 30 days?

What are your biggest concerns?

(Source – CIRAS COVID19 Survey Data March 16 – April 7, 2020; 211 clients responding)

Top takeaways from the survey-

- The majority of surveyed businesses are still operating; however, more than 40 percent of manufacturers are operating at reduced capacity.
- Most indicate they have plans to operate over the next 30 days but are concerned about uncertainty surrounding mandated shutdowns.
- Some continue to seek help with COVID-19 information such as updates, hygiene best practices, retooling to make PPE, the PPE supply chain, and availability of grants and loans.
